AND A SCHEME at large for a New One.

L O N D O N:

Printed by H. Meere, for Robert Thompson, and Sold by N. Crouch, Bookseller, at the Bell in the Poultry, 1714.

THIS Scheme was propos'd to the Amicable Society, and several Members of that Society perusing it, found the same to be very beneficial, and therefore gave the Proprietor Encouragement.

The Benefits and Advantages Persons receive, in being Subscribers, are these, viz. Ten Thousand Pounds will be Yearly divided to Claimants for the first seven Tears, (and a Yearly Sum of 16500 l. will be divided) Payments according to the Tenth Article of these Proposals.

This Scheme will give to every Subscriber all the Advantages that can be had in the Amicable Society, where Members must continue to pay 6 l. 4 s. for 20 Tears, and not be entirely free. In this no Person can pay longer than seven Tears; and having paid that Time, may then double his or her Insurance, and making farther Payments, will receive a double Claim.

In all other Societies the yearly Payments are more than what is Yearly divided. In this 2000 l. per Annum is divided more than what the Yearly Contributions come to: So the Advantages are apparently greater here than can be had in any other Society.

It is likewise intended to form two Divisions, that one Life may be insur'd in both Divisions. Therefore, so soon as 500 Persons have Subscribed in each Division, Trustees will be then chosen, and the Scheme put in Practice.

A

TRUE STATE

OF THE

Amicable SOCIETY, &c.

THE said SOCIETY was begun March 1706, and compleated March 1707; when 2000 Policies were subscribed for. Each Subscriber was to pay 6*l.* 4*s.* Yearly on every Policy, which makes the Annual Contributions to be 12400*l.*

A Yearly Sum of 400*l.* is allow'd for the Charge of the Society, besides the Forfeitures. And as an Improvement of the Quarterly Contributions could not be regularly made, the Interest therefore of those Contributions are cast up Half-Yearly.

A sixth Part of the first Year's Contributions, was to be equally divided to and among all and every such Nominee or Nominees of the Member or Members of the said Society, their respective Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, who respectively shall die in that said Year. The second Year, the Sum of 4000*l.* was to be divided, as aforesaid. The third Year 6000*l.* The fourth Year 8000*l.* And the fifth Year 10000*l.* And every Year after 10000*l.* or a greater Sum; by Consent of a General Court. And no Part of the Capital Stock to be divided, but to the Uses before-mention'd; and therefore the By-Law made, that 40*s.* should be divided to every Member Yearly, from and after 1715, can be of no Effect, as being contrary to their Charter.

Every Member may hereby see the Yearly Increase of the Capital Stock, and what the same ought now to be, viz.

The Number of Subscribers for the Year 1706 were 875, they paying 6 l. 4 s. each, will make the Accompt to be, viz...

The Accompts of the Society were not regularly carry'd on till the Year 1713; and that Year's Ballance not being made up, the same is referred to the Auditor's next Report, and submitted to Judgment, if a new Modus of Government ought not to be adher'd to, that will bring to the Society the following Advantages, viz. Relieve them from a dead Weight of 135 Policies; Encrease the Capital in seven Years to 75000 l. No Member to forfeit more than (common) Interest for Non-Payment of Quarteridges; nor any Money receiv'd until a Claim be paid; The Yearly Sum of 10000 l. divided, and 16500 l. per Annum after Seven Years.

It is hoped therefore every Member will enter into suitable Measures to obtain the aforesaid Advantages.
